Construction To Start Soon On New Section Of Library

Halt In Federal Aid Stalls Plans

Plans for four dormitories were temporarily shelved today when President Truman sent out a halt order on federal loans for institutional housing.

The University had applied to the government for a $1,000,000 loan to build the dormitories.

President Prout said today that the bids on the new Sigma Rho Tau house will make a "test case for future construction." The project will be the first to be advertised since the Korean war began.

The amounts of the bids will indicate how much construction costs have risen since the conflict began.

Testing began last week at the new Power Plant on Court St. Boiler No. 1 was fired. Another test will be made next week.

Boiler No. 2 is being assembled; it is expected to be completed by the middle of September, President Prout said. Housing for a reserve boiler is now being constructed.

The chimney towering over the old Power Plant will be pulled down in the near future. The equipment within the plant will be dismantled.

The building itself will become a receiving building for food. Meat, potatoes, and other perishables will be stored there.

Keys Still Available

A few Keys are left for distribution to summer session students and faculty, according to Russell N. Baird, yearbook adviser.

Anyone wishing to purchase a Key should contact Mr. Baird in the journalism dept. office. The cost is $4, but students who attended one semester of the regular school year may receive a copy for $2.05.

Anyone who was a student both semesters of the regular school year and paid the activity fee can have the yearbook upon payment of 12 cents sales tax.

Work on the new $147,690 Library addition is scheduled to begin in late August, provided war conditions do not interfere, Dr. Frank J. Prout, university president, said today.

The two-story structure, which will connect with the south side of the Library, will expand present study facilities and afford added storage space for new acquisitions of the library book and periodical files.

Ticket Sale Starts For Summer Play

Tickets for "Springtime For Henry," may be purchased Monday, July 31. The sale will continue throughout Thursday, Aug. 3, Director Gene Reynolds announced today.

Tickets may be obtained at the Speech Office in the Gate Theater from 8 to 12 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m.

GENE REYNOLDS is director of the University Theater production, "Springtime For Henry." In the fall, he will be an instructor of speech here and Acting Director of Community Drama, in the absence of Harold B. Obee, assistant professor of speech, who is to be on leave of absence.

Admission will be 50 cents for townspeople and five cents and an Ac card for students and faculty members.

The new section will be centered at the rear of the present building. The planned width is 86 feet and the depth 40 feet. The design permits future development to the south.

Four levels of book stocks with a capacity of 87,000 volumes will occupy the major part of the addition. The stack area will include space for research by graduate students.

The first story will contain a study hall and a receiving room. On the second floor will be a new catalogue office, micro-reader room, and seminar rooms. Offices for bibliographical searching and instructors in library science will also be on the second story.

Space for the use and storage of micro-film and other forms of micro-print will be a feature new to the Library, according to Dr. Paul F. Leedy, Library director. These micro-film files will be continually expanded.

Films containing back issues of well known newspapers and photographic copies of rare books not owned by the Library may be made available to students performing special studies.

Plans for the addition were begun two years ago when President Prout included them as part of the 1949-51 University Budget requested of the State Legislature.

William Linch, the architect who worked on the plans of the present Library building and is a member of the Columbus concern of Sims, Cornelius, and Schooley, is arranging the architectural program for the new addition. The same company planned and designed the Fine Arts Bldg. and the University Chapel.

Campus Welcomes Cleveland Grid Champs

By "RED" FARROW

It's that time again! Classrooms are but half filled, the Lib is empty, term papers are forgotten, the Nest is quiet, cramming is postponed, and co-eds are starry-eyed. The Browns are back.

Ever since Coach Paul Brown decided to bring his first professional football team here five years ago, Bowling Green State University has played host to the Cleveland Browns during their pre-season drills.

This year Brown paid BGSU a great compliment when, facing the toughest season a professional football coach has ever been called upon to meet, he again elected to return.

The Browns contingent eats and sleeps in style at the Falcons Nest and the Alpha Xi Delta sorority house respectively. The Nest is closed to students from 6:30 to 8:30 a.m., from 11 to 2 p.m., and 5 p.m. on in the evening.

In return for this inconvenience, the students will be treated to the opportunity of watching the Browns practice twice a day, morning and afternoon, six days a week. Intra-squad games will begin soon, and on Aug. 12 the team will meet the Green Bay Packers in an exhibition game in Toledo.

Coach Brown and his staff are facing a tough rebuilding job this fall. Gone from the perennial AAC champions are Captain Lou Sabin, who is coaching at Case Tech in Cleveland; Les Horvath, who is practicing dentistry; Edgar Jones, who is coaching and playing in the Canadian Football League; and several others.

Still around, however, are that famous one-two punch Otto Graham and Marion Motley, and the Gold Dust Twins with the glue tipped fingers, Mac Speedie and Dante Lavelli.

Three men upon whom the Browns' brain trust is banking heavily have not arrived in camp yet. They are Jim Martin, All-American tackle at Notre Dame, from Cleveland; John Sandusky, 250-pound tackle from Villanova; and Ken Carpenter, six-foot half-back from Oregon State. These men are now in Chicago preparing for the annual Tribune All-Star game.

This Is The News...

The summer NEWS is always something of a problem, but this year it has been even more so.

During the year, the student body generally ranges in age from 18 to 25 years. In the summer, however, the latter number may extend all the way up to 60—and sometimes does.

The editors' problem, then, is to produce a newspaper aimed at both younger and older students' interests. The younger summer student looks upon more serious material as "stuffy," the older regards a lighter treatment as "frivolous." Thus, a compromise must be attempted.

However, this year, it would seem, the majority of the summer students are in the "older" category. At any rate, the lighter than usual attendance at the social events seems to bear this out. A great many commuters are also in evidence; these tend to fall into the "older" class.

Therefore, the NEWS has attempted—and will continue—to slant the paper toward the interests of the older students.

Books, Books, Books...

If anyone had any occasion to doubt former KEY Editor Al Rosenberg's theme, "Academic Growth Was Matched by Physical Expansion," the attitude will be resolved by the recently proposed Library addition.

Oftentimes prospective college students (and certainly graduate students) judge an institution by the book capacity of the library. Sometimes the physical size of the structure is also taken into consideration. Our Library now contains roughly 110,000 bound volumes and 75,000 government pamphlets. The proposed addition will provide space for an added 87,000 volumes.

Besides this, the innovation of micro-film and micro-print and readers will allow increased efficiency. Perhaps the ultimate outcome will be that the recognized standing of Bowling Green State University may be advanced.

JUST BEFORE DAWN REFLECTIONS:

Nothing makes a person more moral than a good dose of immorality—until the next time.

Thomas Wolfe said it: you can't go home again.

Clemencia Diaz Will Get Degree In Aug.

Clemencia Diaz, niece of the late Domingo Diaz, former President of the Republic of Panama, will receive her Master of Arts degree from Bowling Green State University this August.

Mencia came to the United States early in 1946 to act as the Panamanian Vice-Consul at Toledo.

A short time later, after visiting friends who were attending school here at Bowling Green, she decided to resign her position to enroll for the summer session.

She liked Bowling Green and decided to stay on. Although she had been graduated from the University of Panama in the field of physical education, here she majored in English. In June, 1949 she received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Mencia, who is assistant house director at Shatzel Hall this summer, plans now to return to Panama in September, after visiting friends in this area.

Beyond that, she hasn't decided. Several teaching opportunities are open to her, including a position at the University of Panama. Moreover, she has been offered her former position of Vice-Consul.

Others of Mencia's family have held Panamanian governmental posts. In addition to her uncle, the former President, her brother, Manuel A. Diaz, is President of the Tribunal, an organization comparable to the United States Supreme Court.

Swimmers Perform

Two members of the University swimming team participated in the Water Festival at Wauseon, O., on Thursday evening, July 20.

Dan Craft, Cleveland diving champion and member of the relay team, and Bill Miller, Findlay freshman star, did exhibition of precision and clown diving.

Sipping a coke at a booth of our little Bowling Green edition of a Paris street cafe outside the Nest today, I overheard a violent discussion. It seems that some students were whooping up their favorite comedian. I got out my pad, intruded, and started scribbling.

Vince Ferrazza of Cleveland, O., picks as his favorite comics the team of Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin. "They're both young fellows and are coming through with plenty of original and versatile entertainment," says Vince; and he hopes they'll soon be everyone's favorites.

Bob Lederman Vince Ferrazza

Bob Lederman of Brooklyn, N. Y., insists there is no one like Bob Hope. Bob says, "He reminds me of the Empire State Bldg.—He's great! However," Bob hastens to add, "I believe he is better in pictures than on the stage. His feuding with Bing Crosby is always good for a laugh."

Rosemary Greulich, Lorain, O., nominates Joan Davis as her Queen of Comedy. "Joan's wild antics on the stage, along with her clever acting, produce an hilarious scene; that makes her tops in my book," says Rosemary.

George Kuzoff Rosemary Greulich

Uncle Milt is the favorite comedian of George Kuzoff, Lorain, O. George thinks Milton Berle's ability to give old jokes (and he has a million of them) a new and original twist, the tops in show business. "Berle's willingness to give rising young comedians a break also helps to make him my favorite," George added.

I have loved, (who knows if wisely?),
Every minute since my birth,
More than I have loved my fellows
This indifferent, lovely earth!
—Elizabeth-Ellen Long

WEDDING BELLES: Beverly Kistler and Roland "Pete" Peterson were married early in June in Rockford, Ill. They're living in Bowling Green.

DIPLOMAT: A man who remembers a lady's birthday, but forgets her age.

"THE LEER": If you should catch your old clerical friend—"Outward Bound's" Rev. Dukes—leering pointedly in your direction, you really needn't run for cover. Bob Stager is simply "getting in character" for his role in "Springtime for Henry," which will be presented here Aug. 2 and 3 in the Gate Auditorium.—And, whispers Director Gene Reynolds, Bob's past is a considerable departure from that of the gentle, idealistic minister.

HAVE YOU NOTICED?: Reform seems to consist almost entirely in trying to make the world seem better than the people who live in it.

OSCAR: Some sort of award should be created for the lean lad who circumnavigates the Circle on his bicycle every morning—while he uses both hands to hold the book he's reading.

LAST LAUGH: Early in the spring, the campus (and the staff) chuckled with amusement at an ad run weekly in the BEE GEE NEWS. It described, in a hearts-and-flowers setting, the desirability of a honeymoon at the Farm on the Hill, a spot in Pennsylvania which offered "three honeymoon plans" in a haven open only to newly weds. A few weeks ago two former BEE GEE NEWS staff members—Don Deitesfeld and T. J. Loomis—grinned broadly when they met there, honeymooning with their brides.

RINGING BELLES: Harriett Lewis, a former BG student and member of Theta Phi sorority, will marry Carl Steiger, a pre-dental student at Ohio Northern University, on Aug. 6. Jean Marcella Miller, BG student from Edgerton, and Jim Cox, of Bryan, will marry Sept. 10.

Roof Being Used For Ball Games

KENT, O. — Contractors building the new million dollar Physical Education Bldg. at Kent State University have an unusual problem.

The Western Reserve Construction Co. of Warren recently had to hire a watchman to guard the building after hours. It seems youngsters in the neighborhood of the campus were using the flat roof of the huge building for a baseball diamond.

The gym measures 235 by 305 feet and covers more than one and a half acres. It will house 10,000 persons for basketball games.

By DICK SOMMERS

MIS House holds undisputed possession of first place in the National League in the intramural softball play after last week's action.

Rain halted all activity in the American League. Games that were to be played July 17 will be played today and last Wednesday's games have been set for tomorrow night.

DICK MULVAINE, co-director of the summer sports program.

Undeclared MIS edged by the Old Timers in one of the most thrilling games of the current season. The victors came from behind in the last inning to cop a 17-16 victory. With one out, last of the 7th inning, two runs behind, MIS batter Bob Keagy slammed a long home run down the left field foul line, driving in Deskins and Poppe ahead of him to clinch the game.

In Tuesday night's games the MIS Boys trounced the Ramblers 13-4. Jim Eagles and Ralph Vasa paced the winners in the slugging department, each gathering five hits in six trips to the plate.

Church St. Scholars moved into a second place tie with the Rockets by winning both of their games. The Scholars upset the previously undefeated Rockets Tuesday night, 11-8. Thursday the Scholars kept their winning ways going by crushing the winless Fugi Boys, 24-5. Kenny Foo paced the winners with five straight hits, including three home runs.

The luckless Old Timers split even in two very close games. The Old Timers squeaked by the Fugi Boys Tuesday night, 4-3, but saw victory slip away in the last minutes Thursday when the MIS took their 17-16 win.

The Ramblers had a "losing" week as they dropped both of their games.

Softball Schedule

The schedule for the rest of the week is: Wednesday, July 26, Raiders vs. Calverts, Diamond 3; 410 Club vs. Skiddlikats, Diamond 1; EX House vs. Rogge's Rogues, Diamond 2. Thursday, July 27, Raiders vs. Skiddlikats, Diamond 1; Calverts vs. Rogge's Rogues, Diamond 2; 410 Club vs. EX House, Diamond 3.
